STUDENT PERFORMANCE

- Overarching Goal- Turn Dependent Learners into Independent Learners
- Utilize strategies that re-wire the brain and create long-term connections
- Stimulus → Repetition → Intensity → Brain creates new pathways and now the dependent learner becomes independent
- Repetition and deliberate practice is not about passing tests; it's what the brain requires for long term learning

- If we want performance to improve, we must utilize strategies that support brain research. Feed that brain what it needs to develop.
